AN EGG IN GOLD STORAGE SIX YEARS

A. H. Cole of Hollis, is the father of this story and will speak for the authenticity of it. 6 years ago when he moved to his farm his wife was fixing up some eggs to take to the market. Being rather curious, Mr. Cole wrote his name and address and the date on an egg and commented to wonder if he would ever hear from it. He brought the egg to Canon City and sold them to L. E. Myers, who was in the grocery business at that time, and after a time forgot all about the egg. Not long ago he went into the Cloud County bank and was greatly surprised when George McLean, who knew him if he had ever written his name on an egg. He remembered the circumstances and Mr. McLean informed him that a few days previous he had purchased some eggs at a local grocery store and one of them was the correct signature of A. H. Cole. George said that the egg was a perfectly good one except that it cost a little of cold storage.

ODIANS AGAIN DRIVEN FROM HOMES BY FLOOD

Hundreds of families have been driven from their houses, several manufacturing plants forced to shut down, thousands out of work, transportation disrupted and supplies exhausted due to floods in the southern section of Odián. Despite predictions of better weather, and a cessation of the rain, conditions in the valley are deteriorating from those known to high ground, foreshadowing a repetition of the floods of a year ago.

A FEW NOTES FROM "BEANVILLE BILLY"

"Beanville Billy," whose correspondence is a weekly feature of The Troy (Kan.) Chief, writes:

We notice in a report of a county auditor to the state tax commission of sales of farm property for 1914, that the assessed value of the farms sold, ran from 70 to 90 percent of the cash sale value. "We must have rated some sites where the consideration was '11 and love and affection."
